DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The Examiner has considered the Information Disclosure Statement (IDS) received on November 18, 2004 and the initialed copies (two copies) of the IDS are attached with this correspondence.

Election/Restrictions

2. Newly submitted claims 2 and 3 directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons:

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 1 is, drawn to frequency hopping spread spectrum communication system for transmitting and receiving a frequency hopped spread spectrum signal, classified in class 375, subclass 130.
- II. Claims 2 and 3 are, drawn to a transmission system for transmitting and receiving a narrow band (non-spread spectrum signal), classified in class 375, subclass 259.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and acquire a separate status in the art as shown by their classifications, search required for Group I is not required for Group II, search required for Group II is not required for groups I, therefore, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 2631

3. Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 2 and 3 withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Muller et al. (US patent number 6,639,905, newly cited).

Muller et al (Muller hereinafter) teaches a communication network (fig.1) for communicating a plurality of slave stations (6,8,10) with the master station (4); wherein the master station transmits a packet (see figure 3) having the master station identification and the sequence of hopping in which the slave units are going to use so that the interference is minimized (see col. 2, starting line 54 through col. 3, line 53).

The receiving slave unit (see for example fig. 4) receives the Master ID from which the packet is transmitted and the hopping sequence transmitted by the master unit to detect the payload data transmitted as in claim 1.

Response to Amendment

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US patent numbers 5,768,539, 6,272,343, 6,590,891, 6,594,302, 6,597,671 and 6,643,278 issued to Metz et al., Pon et al., Jacquet et al., Lansford, Ahmadi et al. and Panasik et al. respectively disclose a transmission system having means for transmitting a hopping sequence and network ID.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2631

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
